

I am a flight attendant I think the idea of letting customers use their cell phones in the air is a really bad idea , they don't listen or pay attention to us now what would it be like with them using their phones in air plus it will be disruptive to passengers who want to rest and relax on board who don't use them .